1951 TALISMAN

PUBLISHED BY THE SENIORS OF RUTLAND HIGH SCHOOL
UNDER THE DIRECTION OF
HELEN MACPHERSON, Editor AND THEODORA PHILLIPS, Business Manager

THE TWENTY-SECOND VOLUME OF THE YEARBOOK OF RUTLAND HIGH SCHOOL—RUTLAND, VERMONT

Foreword

On September 13, 1852, Rutland Academy, the forerunner of our present school, opened its doors to seekers of education. There was a small advertisement in the Rutland County Herald announcing its opening and stating that "the several branches of education pursued in our best academies will be attended to."

The talk of the new school must have been mixed into conversation about slavery, new states, and government. It was about this time also that the people of Rutland were thrilled with a little item that appeared in the local paper announcing that news had come from California to New Orleans in eighteen days. Although the school fell into debt and called on the citizenry for interest and support, it stubbornly continued on as an academy until 1855 when it changed its name to Rutland Union High School. In 1856 it moved into a new building, a part of Meldon School at the present time, which faced on Main Street then. Now there was an enrollment of 119 students. In that same year the sum of $1700 was raised by subscription and donation for the benefit of a library "to which the scholars and the inhabitants of the Union district had free access."

The school year was divided into four terms, fall, winter, spring and summer. At the close of each term, a period of eleven weeks, examinations were given. The school had rules similar to those we have today. One rule stated that after the tardy bell had rung the doors were to be shut, and no absent scholar was to be admitted unless he had with him a "satisfactory written excuse" from his parent or guardian.

In 1861, when the Civil War broke out the lives of the Union High School students must have been affected in much the same way as we students have been by the Korean conflict.

Despite the war, by 1862, the enrollment had increased to 232 students. By 1879, the student body had grown to the extent that a west wing had to be added to the building; in 1909, the south wing was built.

The high school lived through two more wars, the Spanish-American War and World War I, before it moved from the hill to Library Avenue in 1929. In this new site, it saw World War II claim many of its students. Now, in 1951, there is a registration of 500 students at Rutland High School.

It has been our purpose to compare Rutland Academy and the present Rutland High School. The contrast of "then's and now's" of administration, classes, activities, sports, and students' lives will make us a little more conscious of the "growing pains" that we of the Classes of 1951, 1952, 1953, and 1954, were spared, but therefrom reap fullest benefits.

Dedication

We, the class of 1951, dedicate our Talisman to Miss St. Clair. Remember "Death Takes A Holiday"? It was Miss St. Clair who inspired us, filling us with the enthusiasm which made our play a success. Again in English class, it was she who instructed, advised, and encouraged many of us, and gave us a broader outlook on life. As a guidance counselor, she made us realize that the problems which worried us could be solved. It is with all these things in mind that we dedicate our Talisman to a wonderful teacher and a wonderful friend.

Administration

The rights, duties, and privileges of the first administration of Rutland High School were much the same as those of our principal and teachers today. It, too, made and enforced the rules of the school, chose the subjects to be taught, selected the text books to be used, and planned courses of study for the students.

The high school, then Rutland Academy, opened with a staff of three: a principal, Luther Lowell, A.B.; a preceptress (woman instructor), Miss M. M. Shipman; and a music teacher, Mrs. F. W. Hopkins. The students were offered English, Latin, Greek, French, German, drawing, and music, in addition to the reading, writing and arithmetic of the regular courses. However, a pupil was charged an additional sum for a subject not in the regular course. French and drawing, for instance, were each $2.00 per term, while music, with the use of instrument, cost $10.00.

In the ninety-nine years since the beginning of Rutland High School the administration has grown to include more than thirty members.

Guidance

Rutland High School students are fortunate to have an active guidance department which assists them in choosing their goals in educational and vocational fields. The guidance counselors look over the students' abilities, aptitudes and interests before advising them. Each year our guidance department gives a number of different tests which help acquaint the counselors with the students' interests. This year guidance counselors for the seniors were Mr. Guild and Miss St. Clair; for the juniors, Miss Buttles; for the sophomores, Miss Egelston; and for the freshmen, Mr. Douglas and Miss St. Clair.

President's Address

Fellow Classmates, Parents and Friends:

It was my honor to be chosen president of the class of 1951. I have appreciated this more than you will ever know.

Now that we are leaving high school and going into the world to start a new life, we are honestly wishing that we were just beginning high school again. But we must go on. In our new life some of us, like Bob Prior and Janice Stone, for instance, will be going to work; some will be going to college—Tom Dunklee to Bryant, Connie Colburn to Connecticut, Les Baird to U. V. M., and more will represent R. H. S. at various schools of higher learning; still others like Carmen Abatiell and Claude Cook will be going into the armed forces. Industry, nursing, teaching, religious service and business will take more of our classmates. But whatever we may choose to do we have our parents, our teachers and our good friends to thank for the happy memories from the past and for the foundations for happiness that will come in the future.

Now I would like to ask the class a few questions. Did you get out of high school what you wanted to? Will what you did in high school be reflected positively and with credit in what you do when you go on from high school? Do you owe the high school anything? It is an important challenge to all of us to live up to the gifts we have received from home, and school, and to our ideals gained here.

DAVID MACK,
President.

DANA KINGSBURY

STUART MARCEAU

FRANCIS RAYMOND

WILLIAM JOSEPH BUTTERFLY

"Bill"

COLLEGE

We'll always remember Bill and his love of managing things. He was a Drive Manager as a freshman, a scrub manager in football, too. In his junior year he became assistant manager of football. The three years he was with us he was also a member of the Rifle Club. He left on September 11, 1950 with the National Guard.

ROBERT STANLEY CROSSMAN

"Junior"

TRADE AND INDUSTRIAL

"Junior" served on the Basketball
Dance Committee when he was a freshman. He played home room basketball during his first and second years in high school. As a sophomore he was his home room's vice president. Can we ever forget his jalopy? "Junior" was another who bade us good-bye on September eleventh.

DONALD CLYDE HOWLAND "Don"

COLLEGE

"Don" was an all-round fellow. He was a member of the track and football teams in his freshman, sophomore and junior years, and outstanding member of our ski team for two years. At the end of his junior year he was selected for Monitor Squad and for Boys' State. If "Don" were here as a senior he'd be a good candidate for "Most Likely to Succeed."

DANA HAROLD KINGSBURY

TRADE AND INDUSTRIAL

Dana was outstanding in track when he was a freshman and sophomore. Also, he was a good player on his home room basketball team. He, too, left for Camp
Pickett on September 11, 1950.

STUART ROLLIN MARCEAU "Stu"

TRADE AND INDUSTRIAL

"Stu" was active in home room affairs throughout his stay in high school. Whenever we saw a car rounding a corner on two wheels we felt quite sure that Stuart was the driver. We do miss those noon-hour thrills, "Stu." On November 9, 1950, Stuart left to enter the Navy.

BERNARD STANLEY McCULLOUGH

"Bernie"

TRADE AND INDUSTRIAL

"Bernie" took an active interest in school affairs until Uncle Sam gave him a beckoning nod. On September 11, 1950
"Bernie" went with the National Guard.

FRANCIS ARTHUR RAYMOND

"Franny"

TRADE AND INDUSTRIAL

We'll all remember Franny's voice as a member of Chorus in freshman year. The following year he was athletically inclined, for he played J. V. Football and joined the Rifle Club. Francis went to Camp
Pickett in September.

CHARLTON WHITE

"Bubby"

COMMERCIAL

"Bubby" was another who liked athletics. He played football, home room basketball and was a track manager. As a junior he made the class basketball team.
When we think of fun, we think of "Bubby." We lost him as a classmate when he, too, left with the Guard on September eleventh.

Class Song

The CLASS SONG was written by Harold Swanson. It is a narration with a choral background. The musical accompaniment was written by Donald LaBrake.

This war, caused by a greedy nation, grasped in its clutches a small number of our classmates. These boys are well remembered by each and every one of us, and they should, with the Lord willing when they reach battle, be protected, as we pray for them on this, our graduation day.

Our Father--To you today our youthful voices rise
In supplication for our comrades of yesterday,
Who from fellow classmates to men of arms turned,
To help the needy peoples of this earth.
Protect them, as they, with others, oppress
The actions of a warlike nation.

We humbly beseech Thee that Thy will is ever directed, for the children's good.

Amen.

For many years now, one of the big moments in the life of seniors has been the presentation of the senior play. These plays have varied from comedy to serious drama and many of them have been highly successful.

To mention a few of the plays that have been presented by R. H. S. seniors: "Charley's Aunt" in 1939; "Mrs. Miniver" in 1943; and "Out Town," an outstanding presentation, in 1948; "Junior Miss," a movie adaptation, and a successful comedy in 1949; and "I Remember Mama," still remembered as the 1950 production.

This year, 1951, has been no exception in respect to presenting a senior play. Six weeks of hard work went into the final presentation of Alberto Casella's "Death Takes A Holiday." This play portrayed "Death" in the form of a human being and provided ironic humor and an opportunity for some good dramatic acting on the part of the cast.

Death, tired of being alone and shunned by human beings, decides to take a three-day holiday in which nothing or no one will die. During his holiday he will become a man and live through the emotions and experiences that confront man.

He resides in the home of Duke Lambert de Catolica in Italy. Only the Duke knows his identity. In this beautiful home are many wonderful people. Death, now Prince Sirki, searches for love with the three beautiful girls of the household and finds that all but one are insincere in their devotion.

A difficult situation arises when the Duke learns that Sirki loves Grazia, the very beautiful daughter of the Princess of San Luca, who is engaged to his son, Corrado. The Duke has sworn that he would not disclose Sirki's identity, but at this point he feels that he should in order to save Grazia and Corrado from an unknown fate.

As the play ends, Prince Sirki takes his leave, and, of her own accord, Grazia leaves with him because she has loved him all the time and she has always known who he was.

Class History

JUNE 5, 1951

This is Channel 51 televising from Rutland, Vermont. Tonight we are going to view the class of 1951, Rutland High School, from September 1947 until June 1951.

SEPTEMBER 1947

That first week was one never to be forgotten. Mr. Douglas took the frosh on a tour of R. H. S. which helped us reach classes on time.

OCTOBER 14, 1947

Don't those '51ers look excited as all one hundred forty-nine exercise their right to vote? Here come the victors: Charles Dunklee anxious to lead them through their initial year and Donald LaBrake looking as though he could understudy 'Tom. Jane Perkins seems capable of handling the chores of secretary-treasurer.

OCTOBER 25, 1947

Look, there they are at their first high school dance, "Apple Harvest." Dr. I. Lash and his crew of bandits are taking care of their green scalps and making them seasoned R. H. S.ers.

JANUARY 16, 1948

Ha, Ha, Ha! Isn't Harlow Shaw funny? He's enjoying that role in "Life O' the Party." Connie Coburn, Earlene LaCoe, Judy Patten, Jimmy Phillips, Barbara Rosen and Sue Terrill seem to be basking in mirth, too. Carolyn Ackley, Jeanette Burke, Joanne Burke, Warren Carlisle, Bob Crawford, Ruth Davidson, Carlene Johnson, Theodora Phillips, Arlie Pond, Boynton Snee, and Janice Stone were the helpful back-stage successes!

MARCH 1948

Did you ever see Carlene Johnson, Janet Shortsleeves, and Sue Terrill cheer? Nuff said! In case you didn't, they made the Varsity-war-whooping-tribe.

APRIL 8, 1948

There's Jeanette Burke, Warren Carlisle, Bob Crawford, Judy Patten, Theodora Phillips, and Barbara Rosen with pencils on their ears carrying Red and White's. Yes, we get it. You six made the editorial staff of the scribe's joy. Connie Coburn, Arlie Pond, and Priscilla Taylor took charge of the important part, the money!

APRIL 9, 1948

Everybody loved to watch basketball, especially when the freshmen team played. Here they come now: Leslie Baird, "Joe" Dolan, Charles Dunklee, Bill Frappier, Roger Frisch, Dick Grace, George Greene, Bill Goldman, Dave Mack "Bud" McConnell, and Bob Miles. Success wasn't theirs in the tournament, but everybody had loads of fun!

MAY 27, 1948

What is that group doing with those ballots? Yes, you say Donald LaBrake has been elected secretary-treasurer of the Student Council for the coming year. Congratulations, Donny!

SEPTEMBER 1948

Look at the class of '51 practically running up the walk into R. H. S. All are excited and enthusiastic. They're no longer greenhorns but superior sophomores.

NOVEMBER 8, 1948

Here comes "Joe" Dolan carrying the torch for '51. Andrea Mead is helping him watch over this important milestone. Jane Perkins has been re-elected to the office of secretary-treasurer.

MARCH 1949

The mystical crystal ball said this was to be an important year in the school's history. "Joe" Dolan, Dick Grace, "Bud" McConnell, and Bob Miles are representing us in the most wonderful basketball tournament since 1926. We won!!!

APRIL 8, 1949

Watch Warren Carlisle and Earlene LaCoe on the screen in Stage Door. The play has won the District Contest and is now going to the State finals. Many '51ers worked long and hard to make it possible.

SEPTEMBER 1949

Everybody is energetic and happy during his junior year. The class of 1951 is no exception, as they glide through the halls with the realization graduation is only two short school years away.

SEPTEMBER 1949

The group around the table is selecting the emblem by which the class of 1951 will be forever known. Leslie Baird, Charles Dunklee, Joyce Houghton and Janet Shortsleeves are working long and hard on this important ring committee.

OCTOBER 17, 1949

The juniors have voted and Joyce Houghton has won the difficult task of president. Jane Perkins climbed a step, and there she is assuming the duties of vice-president. Gloria Pratico is now chief money and record keeper.

MARCH 23, 1950

It's State Play Contest time again. We see Norman Bruce and Joyce Houghton representing the deserving juniors whole many others are working behind-the-scenes.

MARCH 31, 1950

The soft, glowing, candlelight and the solemn speeches tell us the National Honor Society Assembly is in progress. Robert Crawford, Carlene Johnson, Jane Perkins, James Phillips, and Barbara Rosen are honored with membership in this organization.

APRIL 6, 1950

Hear ye!! Hear ye!! Bob Crawford has been chosen as the head of the "pencil-chewers-deadline-3-30-Thursday-or-else" union. Jeanette Burke will help him gnaw. Warren Carlisle will see that "all the news that's fit to print" is injected in the Red and White. Connie Coburn as business manager will watch over the spend-thrifts.

MAY 1950

Late votes have been counted and we see Charlie Dunklee practicing up on the word "INSPECTION." Charles will lead the school as president of the Student Council in 1950-1951.

MAY 1950

All the '50 Monitors are on stage now, handing over their arm bands to the new policemen for the coming year. Roger Frisch is chief, while Carolyn Ackley, Jeanette Burke, Ruth Davidson, Janet Duval, Cornelia Herrick, Joyce Houghton, Carlene Johnson, Marie Louras, Helen MacPherson, Jane Perkins, Gloria Pratico, Barbara Rosen and Sue Terrill will be his female assistants. Warren Carlisle, Joe Dolan, Joe Donnelly, Charles Dunklee, Bill Frappier, Donald Gilman, Sidney Izenberg, Richard Kaeller, Stephen Levenson, Bryce Lundell and Herb Moore will be his male cops.

MAY, 1950

The six girls in Mr. Guild's office are overjoyed because they've been chosen to represent R. H. S. at Green Mountain Girls' State held at Vermont Junior College from June 25 to July 1. Joanne Burke, Connie Coburn, Joyce Houghton, Carlene Johnson, Jane Perkins and Barbara Rosen are going to learn about our state government.

Barbara Rosen brought laurels to R. H. S. as she was chosen one of the two delegates from Vermont to Girls' Nation held during August in Washington, D. C.

Robert Crawford, John Dolan, Charles Dunklee, Donald Howland, James Phillips, F. Grant Smith, and Lee Wilson are speechless with joy now because they've been chosen to journey to Norwich University for Boys' State held the same week as Girls' State.

MAY 12, 1950

Can you hear the soft music, see the low lights? Do you feel romantic? If you can, you are dancing at Neptune's Paradise, our Junior Prom. The affair was successfully general-chaired by Charles Dunklee with Carolyn Ackley, Janis Bresnahan, Jeanette Burke, Joanne Burke, Connie Coburn, Robert Crawford, Paul Crossman, Ruth Davidson, Merlyn Davis, "Joe" Dolan, Bill Frappier, Roger Frisch, Bill Goldman, George Greene, Jean Guttenplan, Joyce Houghton, Carlene Johnson, Donald La Brake, Steve Levenson, Marie Louras, Dave Mack, Herbert Moore, Jane Perkins, James Phillips, Theodora Phillips, Barbara Rosen, Grant Smith and Janice Stone, all helping to provide the undersea magic.

SEPTEMBER 6, 1950

One hundred and five seniors are embarking upon the final step in their high school careers. The best year is at hand with graduation only few short months away. School is more fun and friends are closer.

SEPTEMBER 11, 1950

William Butterfly, Robert Crossman, Dana Kingsbury, Francis Raymond, Donald Howland, Bernard McCullough and Charlton White relinquished their senior year for service with the National Guard.

SEPTEMBER 23, 1950

The Army's disaster crew is at work. Sergeants and on down through scared the green of the freshmen's skins into a scarlet Raider Red. Harlow Shaw acted as Sergeant-of-Ceremonies while Leslie Baird, Jeanette Burke, Joanne Burke, Connie Coburn, Paul Crossman, Sue Davis, John Dolan, Tom Dunklee, Janet Fifield, Charles Franzoni, Bill Frappier, Roger Frisch, Bill Goldman, George Greene, Sidney Izenberg, Carlene Johnson, Don La Brake, Steve Levenson, Herbert Moore and Barbara Rosen took care of the details.

OCTOBER 4, 1950

Dave Mack led the class during their final year in R. H. S. Herbert Moore was elected vice president, Gloria Pratico retained one of her posts, that of secretary, while Carolyn Ackley assumed the duties of chief banker.

NOVEMBER 7 AND 8, 1950

After much discussion and debate everybody has consented to writing four important years in a priceless book called the Talisman. Editor-in-Chief, Helen MacPherson and her staff consisting of Jeanette Burke, Joan Canfield, Connie Coburn, Warren Carlisle, Merlyn Davis, Ruth Davidson, Claire Hebert, Steve Levenson, Judy Patten, Barbara Rosen, Jane Perkins and Jean Turner will record the last literature of the class of 1951.

Business Manager, Theodora Phillips, and her junior businessmen, Sylvia Adams, Ruth Armstrong, Joanne Burke, Russell Carleton, Glen Hibbard, Beverly Holcomb, Barbara LaPlante, Lorene Shover, Janice Stone, Priscilla Taylor, and Glenna Wilder are assuming the financial responsibilities of this enterprise.

DECEMBER 7 AND 8, 1950

Did you see Death Takes A Holiday? It was a clever drama with interwoven comedy sketches. The theatrical production is also responsible for adding some much-needed gold to the '51 hoard. Carolyn Ackley, Norman Bruce, Robert Boutwell, Warren Carlisle, Robert Crawford, Ruth Davidson, Merlyn Davis, Roger Frisch, Joyce Houghton, Sidney Izenberg, Richard Kaellar, Theodora Phillips, and Sue Terrill all are co-operating to make it the hit of the season.

MARCH 26, 1951

Queens of France is on. There's Warren Carlisle, Cornelia Herrick, and Janice Stone in character roles. Anne Grady and Judy Patten are working beyond-that-curtain. They've won the District Contest, but St. Johnsbury is their Waterloo. They are doing a wonderful job representing Rutland High and the class of '51!

Jeanette Burke, Joanne Burke, Warren Carlisle, Connie Coburn, John Dolan, Helen MacPherson, and Judy Patten are receiving the highest honor R. H. S. can bestow upon a student—election to the National Honor Society membership.

JUNE 5, 1951

Our time for televising is almost up. We hope you've liked this show as much as we have enjoyed living it. We know you will always remember the class of 1951 who actually made history.

The Voice,
JOANNE BURKE.

Class Prophecy

Over these past ye-ahs ah hev neva bother'd ta read them thar news pages ta find out who's who and what in tha news. Do ya know why?—Cuz ah kin see fur-r fur-r-r into the future.

Way back in tha ye-ah of '51 ah made some dan-dee pre-dictions. Lend me yer ear an' lis-ten ver-ry close-ly ta see eff-en ah did, and didn't make en-ny mis-takes a-tall.

Paul Crossman has turned Joseph Donnelly's fancy of photography into a career. Their photographs have been printed in all leading magazines, featuring their favorite models, Janis Bresnahan and Earlene La Coe. But—lately nothing has been heard of Paul. It seems that back in 1951 Paul was photographing Bryce Lundell while an experiemnt was going on. Paul and his camera cannot be found, and as yet, no one knows what they were trying to prove.

Kathleen Conner and Barbara LaPlant are now proud owners of "The Diamond Dust Restaurant" at the Saratoga raceway. "Bubby" Baker is "Chief Cook and Bottle Washer."

Ruth "Rusty" Davidson is still Keeping hErself fairly busy These days, taking in the High spots of Boston!!!

Fred "Sam" Galarneau as the "World's Sharp Shooter" has been meeting some tough competition lately. Carmen Abatiell and Donald Gilman seem to be the threats to his title. "Carmy" and Don have been seen at Hopalong Cassidy movies. Evidently they are educational.

News has been buzzing that Sylvia Adams has been seen purchasing a trousseau in Joan Canfield's Fashionable Shoppe. Lending a bit of sales talk were Jeanette Burke and Ardelle Frasier. DESTINATION: Beautiful Bavaria!!!

Congratulations to Bob Boutwell for being chosen "Mr. B. O. Plenty of 1959." It seems that Bob grew a beard for a play he was once in. Liked it—let it grow, and now he has fame. It appears that Sidney Izenberg's, "Chub" Franzoni's and Claude Cooke's chin whiskers weren't as well groomed as Bob's which gave him "the look" that was needed.

Charles "Tommy" Dunklee has finally been persuaded by his campaign manager, Roger Frisch, to run for President. Janet Hines will be his private secretary in handling his private affairs.

Charley French and Les Baird have entered into a partnership. They have been experimenting for many years and have come up with a new product,—their slogans being:—

"Why be short,—when you can be tall"?

"Don't be a "shrimp," be the envy of all."

Bev Holcomb and Bill Frappier have also become partners,—(Dancing).

Carolyn "Terry" Ackley has finally reached her long sought goal. She is successor to Esther Williams.

Word has been received here from London, England, that a famous actor, Warren Carlisle, and his understudy, Bob "The Brain" Crawford, haven't appeared on stage lately. It seems that Bob's favorite words are still,— "Cognac, Sir?"

Librarians, Sue "Short and Sweet" Davis and Barbara Cleary, report that Ralph Crippen is a wonderful boss to work for. Ralph became the local head librarian.

A FLASH BULLETIN FROM PARIS—"Connie" Coburn, Janet Fifield, and Cornelia Herrick have been making out fairly prosperously. (Teaching Home Economics, that is!)

The Cavacas twins, Howard and Hurley, have set a fine example of American enterprise by starting at the bottom and working up. They are now joint owners of the "First National Store."

Marion Ingalls is now a missionary in the South Sea Islands. Also with her are Marie Louras who is teaching the natives "the elements of beauty," Joyce Houghton as a nurse, (Reports are—"Patients doing fine"), and Norman "Bud" Bruce who believes in starting at the bottom for real hair culture.

Carlene Johnson and "Lynn" Davis have founded a soda pop corporation. Their slogan is,— "LYME" is best; it "PERKS" you up for a hard day's work.

NEW YORK—Don La Brake has captured the hearts of the town with the smooth styling of his "Sweet Potato Tooters." The band is composed of Dick "Romeo" Kaellar, Bill Goldman, and George Greene. Retired from the outfit is "Russ" Carleton who holds the title of "The Second Gene Krupa."

Joanne "Jo" Burke has formed her own speech and dramatics classes, for males only. Her pupils are Tom Buffum, Robert Johnston and Don Guimond.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Jean Guttenplan has started a giggle bureau in honor of her school-day competitors, Claire Hebert and Pat Lefrancois.

Joe "Cozy" Dolan has left Notre Dame to join "Bud" McConnell's pro basketball team, "The Rockets." "The Rockets," current leaders in the pro basketball world, also have signed "Sad Sack" Miles who was on last year's All-American team. Rumors are flying that McConnell is trying to sign Don Kehoe, but Don's holding out for more money. "The Rockets" have as press agent, Steve Levenson, who attributes the team's success to its cheerleaders, Janet Duval and Ruth Armstrong.

SUE TERRILL,
Class Prophet.

Class Will

We who are graduating in the distinguished class of nineteen hundred and fifty-one, having labored through four unduly hard years of high school and having become physically enslaved by nicotine and mentally stymied by chemical reactions, thus feeling we are fully prepared to let the future frustrate us, hereby bequeath to Rutland High School and its occupants, this document, as our last will and testament.

DAVID MACK bequeathes his razor blades to the juniors. (They have never been used, girls.)

HARLOW SHAW leaves his "red" hair to any promising, underclass communist.

JUDY PATTEN and GLENNA WILDER leave like Mutt and Jeff.

HAROLD "PEANUT" SWANSON wills his pool stick to Miss St. Clair, so that future play casts won't miss their "cues."

JANET SHORTSLEEVES wills her basketball ability to next year's "Keefemen."

CLARA McCULLOUGH bequeathes some philosophy about shoulder straps to the unwitting junior girls.

JAMES PHILLIPS leaves his exclusive knowledge to "Cobby" so the school can still be run efficiently after his departure.

PRISCILLA TAYLOR and JEAN TURNER leave together as always. Amen!

THOMAS PARENT leaves R. H. S. as he has done so often in the past four years.

STEVE "SCRIBE" LEVENSON wills his coveted position to any young aspirant of Bill Stern.

JANICE STONE leaves having "Benway" behind the others.

THEODORA PHILLIPS leaves her violin to Mr. Low's "first string" band members next year.

BRYCE LUNDELL and FRED SMITH will their wealth of silence to "Malc" Guild, who could spend some of it with ease.

EARLENE LACOE leaves Joan to carry on her high school traditions. (Pretty "FOXy" eh!)

BOB MILES leaves Coach Keefe wishing that "Bob" had a brother on the way to high school.

MARIE "BECCA" LOURAS wills her beautiful dark eyes to sister Georgia, who is a frosh. (I certainly envy the lucky underclassmen next year.)

PAT LEFRANCOIS and RONALD LUCAS are leaving. (As anyone can see.)

WARREN TILTON bequeathes his job to any junior boy who wants to be "Strand"ed during his senior year.

JOHN SEITZ and JOHN OLF have left a wonderful impression on all those who were fortunate enough to have known them.

SHIRLEY TRYON gladly gives up her giggles to study hall for those gloomy Monday mornings.

JOHN YOUNG wills his name as a deferment to any eligible juniors. (Take notice, Dick!)

GEORGE GREENE bequeathes his name to the oncoming freshmen so they may continue to carry on an old "Frosh" tradition.

ROBERT "BUD" McCONNELL is willing to sell his Economics Notebook to any promising student in that field. That is, of course, if the intrinsic value of our monetary standard remains intact. (For definitions refer to one Miss Katherine Moran.)

LORENE and LORETTA leave trying to figure out whether it would be better for their vehicle if they were to "Wheeler" or "Shover" back to North Clarendon. (Can anyone help them out?)

"SUE" TERRILL bequeathes all her old beaus to the underclasswomen, because she can always get "Moore."

JACK SEWARD leaves—how else but on his motor bike?

ROSEMARIE "TIPPY" PLIZGA wills her reserved seat at Dan Allen's and her reserved manners (?) to Jean Morris.

JANE PERKINS leaves Miss Fredericks hoping she will find another student so co-operative. (Who pays for the gas, Jane?)

GLORIA PRATICO wills the art of making friends and keeping them to all the underclassmen of R. H. S.

GLEN SENEAL leaves the address of his tonsorial artist (barber, for the benefit of commoners) to Mr. Hebert, who had quite a close shave last time he had his cranium sheared.

BARB ROSEN, HELEN MACPHERSON, and CONNIE COBURN leave goals worthy enough for the combined efforts of all the underclassmen striving together.

HERBERT "JIG" MOORE leaves his long lists of ex-girl friends to Fred "TAYLOR" who should be able to "mend" all those broken hearts.

ROBERT PRIOR will give up anything anyone wants except his "Prior"ity in line for his diploma.

CAROL NAULT leaves to be chained in holy wedlock.

DON LABRAKE leaves his ski-wax to speed up the French classes. (Don still thinks it would be easier if all the French learned to speak English.)

LEE "HOTDOG" WILSON leaves everything to himself.

In this, the year of our Lord, one thousand, nine hundred and fifty-one, in this age of national congruity, brotherly love, and international understanding, I hereby cause my signature to be affixed upon this, our last will and testament.

FRESHMAN RECEPTION

George Hansen was elected president; Pearl King and Malcolm Guild were vice president and secretary-treasurer, respectively. Hansen also served as vice president of Student Council. At the close of the football season, George Cady and Joseph Roberts were elected co-captains of the 1951 team. Dick Grace made the All-State football team as left end. R. H. S. ended its court season by choosing Russell Shappy for next year's captain. In January, the juniors put on "Operation Laugh" to raise money for the class treasury. The Junior Prom, "Carrousel," was under the direction of Carole Franzoni and Dick Grace. The highest honor a high school junior can attain was conferred on five members of the class on April 5 when Earlene Germon, George Hansen, John Hartigan, Russell Shappy and Joel Sherburne were inducted into the National Honor Society. Late in May, the selections for Boys' and Girls' States and for Monitor Squad were announced.

SOPHOMORES

The sophomores started their school year by electing Peter Perkins, class president; he served also as secretary-treasurer of Student Council. Olaf Garcia, the class vice president, and Jim Grady received their football letters. Mary Roberts and Carleen Chapman made the majorette squad. A revised plan enabled this class to be the first to order rings in their sophomore year which they will receive in the fall of their junior year.

FRESHMEN

The freshman class was formally received at the reception given by the seniors. On November 13, Judith Clark was elected president, Edward Bartlett, vice president, and Dan Allen, secretary-treasurer. Charles Blanchard captured athletic honors by receiving a football letter as a freshman. The dramatists of the class presented "Antic Spring" under the direction of Mrs. Greene. Under the able coaching of Mr. Sloan the freshman basketball team were most successful against all opponents. Six J. V. cheerleaders, Judy Clark, Joan Fox, Sally Greene, Pat Keefe, Sandra Paul, and Joanna Taft, were chosen. From these girls, two were selected for the Varsity squad to replace the graduating members. The lucky two were Pat Keefe and "Sandy" Paul, with Judy Clark as substitute. At the State Music Festival in May, Shirley Rice won a scholarship.

National Honor Society

In March of last year five members of the class of 1951 were inducted into the National Honor Society. These five became the officers in September, and carried on the various activities. The president was Jane Perkins; the vice president, Barbara Rosen; secretary, Carlene Johnson; the treasurer, Robert Crawford; and program chairman, James Phillips. The group with the assistance of volunteers sold candy at the football, basketball, and baseball games. They also sponsored a Christmas Party for the Alumni. Miss Marie Johnson was faculty adviser for the group.

Membership in this society is one of the highest honors bestowed upon a student in school. The faculty select the members on the basis of four major qualities: scholarship, leadership, service and character.

On April 5, the following seniors were inducted. Jeanette Burke, Joanne Burke, Warren Carlisle, Constance Coburn, John Dolan, Helen MacPherson, Judith Patten, Earlene Germon, George Hansen, John Hartigan, Russell Shappy, and Joel Sherburne were the members selected from the junior class.

Boys' and Girls' States

At the close of the junior year, a group of twelve R. H. S. boys and girls spent an educational and gay week with delegates from other Vermont high schools at Boys' State, sponsored by the American Legion, and at Girls' State, under the direction of the American Legion Auxiliary. Boys' State was at Norwich University; Vermont Junior College at Montpelier was the scene of Girls' State. The delegates selected by the principals and faculties of the various schools represented were sponsored by local organizations. The selected students were chosen for possessing qualities of outstanding leadership, character, co-operation, and scholastic ability.

A model state government—from towns and their moderators to state officers—is carried on at Boys' and Girls' States. Green Mountain Boys' State was established in 1938; three years later the Girls' State program was inaugurated.

In the early 1940's a Boys' Nation had its beginning, and in 1947 Girls' Nation was started. Two "outstanding citizens" are chosen in all the forty-eight Girls' and Boys' States to attend the Nations in Washington, D. C. to carry on a model national government. Barbara Rosen, one of Vermont's delegates chosen this year, went to Washington in August.

At Vermont's States this year, Barbara Rosen was elected Lieutenant-Governor, and Constance Coburn was chosen for Auditor of Accounts. Other office holders were Bob Crawford, Senator, Co-editor of the newspaper, and town clerk; John Dolan, Adjutant General, town selectman; Charles Dunklee, Supreme Court Judge, town moderator; William Frappier, Senator, town selectman; Donald Howland, town moderator; Fred Smith, town constable; Lee Wilson, town constable; Joanne Burke, health officer, State's Attorney; Constance Coburn, county clerk, town police chief; Joyce Houghton, town selectman; Carlene Johnson, Senator, town selectman; Jane Perkins, Secretary of Senate; Barbara Rosen, state vice-chairman of her party, town moderator, delegate to Girls' Nation. The school's delegates returned to their senior year in high school, well-informed about their state government, and ready to become better citizens.

Front row: Marie Louras, Carlene Johnson, Joyce Houghton, Carolyn Ackley, Barbara Rosen, Ruth Davidson, Cornelia Herrick, Jeanette Burke.
 Row two: Sue Terrill, Jane Perkins, Gloria Pratico, Helen MacPherson, Janet Duval.
 Row three: Joseph Donnelly, William Frappier, Warren Carlisle, Bryce Lundell, Charles Dunklee, Harlow Shaw, Donald Gilman.
 Row four: Sidney Izenberg, Herbert Moore, John Dolan, Richard Kaeller, Roger Frisch, Stephen Levenson, Miss Katherine Moran, Faculty Adviser.

Monitor Squad

Between each period of the school-day, inter-room traffic was efficiently directed by the thirteen boys and thirteen girls who comprised the 1951 Monitor Squad.

Meetings were held every second Wednesday of each month, with Miss Katherine Moran, faculty adviser, present. Assistant faculty advisers were Miss Helen Bailey and Mr. George Sloan. The 1951 officers were Roger Frisch, Head Monitor, and Marie Louras, Secretary-Treasurer. At meetings, traffic problems were discussed and social activities for the year were planned.

The Monitor Squad originated in the late 1920's, and the members were chosen, then, as now, for their qualities of leadership, responsibility, reliability, and character.

In the autumn, the Monitors sponsored their annual dance; the theme this year was "Fall Festival" with decorations of brightly colored leaves. On March 16, the squad presented a movie, "Margie," which was enjoyed by the student body and faculty. The final social event of the year was a banquet on May 16 at the Retreat in Sherburne.

On June 1, Monitors, newly-chosen from the Class of 1952, assumed their duties following an induction at the last assembly of the year.

Student Council

OFFICERS

President CHARLES DUNKLEE, '51
 Vice President GEORGE HANSEN, '52
 Secretary-Treasurer PETER PERKINS, '53

Faculty Adviser--MR. HOWARD W. DOUGLAS

CHARLES DUNKLEE

The Student Council is what makes our school a truly democratic institution. Besides giving students a chance to rule themselves, it takes a special interest in the school's welfare. This year, the Student Council made several important changes in school rules and customs. One alteration which will affect all the classes to come was the selection of a standard class ring. Besides lowering the price of a ring for buyers of the future, it makes the rings available to the students in the early fall of their junior year.

As in former years, the Council again sponsored a magazine drive, during which the students sold subscriptions to Curtis magazines and derived a substantial commission. The group contributed a school flag this year for one of its projects.

On February 21, an informal dance was held, commemorating the birth of George Washington. A trade school contest was held under the council's sponsorship in our school library in February, also.

One of the important functions of the Student Council is the inspections of home rooms weekly. Formerly, points were awarded for the scholastic standing of the home room, but this year the council decided that this practice was unfair and voted to discontinue it.

The Red and White

The Red and White had a very successful year, journalistically and financially. This paper was begun in 1929, and is Vermont's first printed high school weekly. A new office, room 111, provided spacious and cheerful surroundings for this year's staff.

Robert Crawford served as editor-in-chief for the 1950-1951 Red and White with Jeanette Burke as associate editor. Seniors, Warren Carlisle and Stephen Levenson, filled the positions of news editor and sports editor, respectively. The business board was managed by Constance Coburn. Miss Madeline S. Buttles was the faculty advisor.

This year the entire staff, in co-operation with the editors, strove to improve the paper and was very successful in incorporating new and novel features, cuts, and sports articles.

Much emphasis was placed upon co-operation, interest, ability, dependability, and initiative to make each issue worthwhile, and the entire twenty-five as successful as possible. To achieve these qualities for improvement, the editors held a series of conferences. Staff meetings were held to acquaint the boards with new ideas and future plans whenever it was deemed necessary and helpful. In recognition of a year's work, members were given a gold pin with a scroll and quill representing newspaper work. For two and three years of service, the pins were accompanied by maroon and white ribbons.

In April, Leila Goodrich was chosen for editor and Fred Hyland for associate editor of the 1951-1952 Red and White. The Business Manager will be Thomas Dolan. As a finale to the year's work, a banquet was held at the Wheeler Williams on May 7.

I. R. C.

The International Relations Club, designed to better acquaint high school citizens with world affairs, and to prepare them for broader future citizenship in our spherical community, was active again this year.

In the first year of the Club's existence, Dr. Wing-Tsit Chan of Dartmouth College was an Assembly speaker. Also, the club co-operated with Rutland Junior College in sponsoring a one day Conference on World Affairs for high school students from southern Vermont.

During the next school year, speakers who addressed I.R.C. were: the Reverend Graydon Brown, Mr. Harry Woshinsky, Dean Getty Page, and Miss Marion Geigner of the Rutland Junior College, Dean Florence Black of Castleton Teachers' College, Miss Eleanor Schneider, chapter secretary of World Federalists. Delegates were sent to the state wide high school conference on international relations at Montpelier. A Pencils-for-Mexico campaign and a city wide clothing drive proved to be successful projects.

In 1949, the organization kept several projects going efficiently. Among these were "Pen Pals," CARE packages, many guest-speakers at meetings, and the highly successful social event, "Holiday Hop."

1950 proved to be another successful year. A visit was made to a class held for displaced persons, and 400 pounds of books were collected for overseas use. The Talent Show came in the spring followed by the "Country Style" square dance. A 12 page club "Newspaper" was printed in June.

Now in 1951 the International Relations Club has made history again. The winter months were made gayer by "Hillbilly Hop." Nine bags of clothing were sent to S.C.F. When interest in politics was prevalent during the elections, the Club heard Mayor Healy and Mr. Donahue at meetings, and sent out flyers urging citizens to vote. Miss Barbara Flanders, Mr. Ellery Purdy, Mr. Carl Hull, and Miss J. Paulsen also spoke to the club. Dr. Harold Slocum was sponsored by the group as Assembly speaker for U.N. Day. The club carried on a UNESCO-CARE Children's Book Fund in the parochial and public schools, and later a city and a country wide campaign for adult books.

MIMES

Mimes was officially organized in October 1932, by Mr. Clifford Van Iderstine, Coach of Dramatics. The membership was limited to forty and tryouts were held.

Mimes, with Mrs. Mabel Morrill as faculty advisor, is run on a similar basis, and carries out the same type of activities as it did when it was first organized. Under the leadership of Warren Carlisle, president; Harlow Shaw, vice president; John Hartigan, secretary; Merlyn Davis, treasurer; and Roger Frisch, program chairman, the club has had a successful year.

The club's entry in the district play contest was "Queens of France." This play placed first at Proctor and later competed in the state play contest at St. Johnsbury.

Through giving productions, Mimes members, besides acting, learned about staging, costuming, lighting, and other important aspects of dramatics. The club members also derived benefit from the interesting programs presented at the meetings. Activities for the year closed with a banquet on May 22.

Front row: Evelyn Izenberg, Garland Brown, Julie Beane, Janet Judkins, Concetta LaVecchia, Shirley Rice, Judith Clark, Joanna Taft.

Junior Mimes

The dramatic club known as Freshman Dramatics was begun in 1933 by Mr. Clifford Van Iderstine. Originally the group included all four grades, but it was later broken up, and the freshmen became a group by themselves. The Freshman Dramatics group did scenery painting, lighting, costuming, and make-up, besides actual plays.

There was an interval during which other teachers took the Freshman Dramatics group. Then Mrs. Greene started Junior Mimes in 1945. Until then, Freshman Dramatics had not been connected in any way with the older group. Now, the point a student earns in Junior Mimes automatically entitles him to a membership in Mimes.

Besides doing other plays and working with costumes, properties, and scenery, the Club put on a hilarious skit called "Antic Spring," for a student assembly.

This year Junior Mimes elected as President, Judith Clark, and as Secretary-Treasurer, Joanna Taft.

Library Council

Four years ago Mrs. Elizabeth B. Greene started the Library Council. Each year the program has been varied and has been vitally interesting to the members.

The Council arranges displays in the library and plans the celebration of National Book Week. This year the group sponsored a "Record Selection Contest" and a "Hobby Show." All the students were eligible to participate in either or both of these projects. Ruth Johnson was awarded the prize in the record selection contest for her list of records judged to be the best suited for the high school. In the "Hobby Show" emphasis was placed upon the relationship between hobbies and books on the same subject. A large number of students displayed their hobbies. Nearly fifty dollars, money accumulated from fines on overdrawn books, was spent during National Book Week for bettering the school library resources.

The 1950-1951 membership included: Loretta Wheeler, Joseph Donnelly, Carolyn Ackley, Herbert Moore, Carleen Johnson, Fred Hyland, Chairman; Beverly Ladabouche, Dick Grace, Dolores Cameron, Mary Webber, Roberta Bantis, Sue Ormsby, Jane Herrick, Ruth Johnson, Business Manager; Georgia Louras, Edward Bartlett, Shirley Rice, Edward Boynton, and Robert Miller.

The Band

"Here comes the band!" What a thrill it is to see fifty musicians in trim maroon uniforms and led by eight majorettes come marching down the field. with not one crooked rank and no one out of step. Mr. George Low, Director of Music, deserves a lot of credit for transforming the hodge-podge of a few years ago into the Class A band which Rutland High School has today. Then, the band merely marched out on the field, sat in the bleachers (what there was of them), made noise fondly thought to be music, and marched back into the building. What a difference today!

FREEDOM DAY PARADE

This year the band went on five memorable trips. The first was to Claremont, New Hampshire, for a football game. Then the band went to Keene, New Hampshire on March 10, for a two-band concert. On the Saturday before Easter the Keene band came to Rutland participated in a combined concert.

On May 10, the band traveled to Burlington for the annual Vermont Music Festival. This was an important trip, but more important even than this, was the one to Boston, Massachusetts for the New England Music Festival held on May 24, 25, and 26. This Festival comprised over 7000 high school band, orchestra and chorus members.

The year's final trip came on May 30, when the band went to Crown Point, New York and took part in the Memorial Day parade.

Three band members were chosen to play in the All-New England Band this year. They were Donald LaBrake (cornet), Donald Cheney (tuba), and John Hartigan (clarinet). Being selected to play in the All-New England Festival is one of the highest honors a high school musician can attain. That festival was held in Auburn, Maine on March 14, 15, 16, and 17.

Band members who attended All-State Band were Pamela Babcock, Richard Ianni, David Wisell, Janice Stone, Donald LaBrake, Alan MacPherson, Dale Benway, Kenneth Smith, James Jeffords, George Cady, Donald Cheney, Russell Carleton, Constance Coburn, and Robert Crawford.

This year's troupe of majorettes was led by a capable Drum Major, Carolyn "Terry" Ackley, and an efficient Head Twirler, Janis Bresnahan. The assisting twirlers were Joyce Houghton, Leila Goodrich, Barbara Walker, Katherine Billings, and Lucille Mullin.

In December two sophomores, Mary Roberts and Carlene Chapman, were chosen for next year. Two freshmen will be selected to complete the squad for 1951-1952.

Orchestra

Ever since 1852, the founding of Rutland Academy, the forerunner of our high school, music has played an important part in school life. At first, music lessons were offered in the curriculum. In 1921, and perhaps even before this, there was an orchestra under the direction of Mr. Frank Phillips, a commercial teacher.

This year's orchestra, directed by Mr. George H. Low, consisted of twenty-five pieces. It played between the acts at the senior play, "Death Takes a Holiday," and at the Mimes production, "Belvedere." The orchestra was also heard at several school assemblies, and it plays every year for Baccalaureate and Graduation.

The string section held two rehearsals a week during school time this year. The whole orchestra practiced every Friday noon.

Two members, Patricia Cheney and Helen MacPherson, were selected to play in the All-New England Orchestra at Auburn, Maine in March. The orchestra members who attended All-State Music Festival were: Patricia Cheney, Theodora Phillips, Shirley Rice, Anita LaCross, Anthony White, Judith Clark, John Hartigan, Donald Evans, Helen MacPherson, Harold Swanson, Warren Carlisle, and Edward Boynton.

 Row two: Mr. George Low, Director; Helen MacPherson, Nancy Ward, Roberta Cook, Judith Patten, Elna Senecal, Pamela Babcock, Joanna Taft, Sibyl Chase, Janet Judkins, Judith Clark, Shirley Rice, Ruth Davidson, Anita LaCross, Accompanist.
 Row three: Dale Benway, Sidney Izenberg, John Hartigan, Edward Boynton, James Phillips, Joel Sherburne, David Petraglia, Robert Mulholland, Walter Manney, Laurence Muhlberg.

Chorus

What is known as Chorus today certainly differs from what it was at its beginning in 1932. Mr. Clifford Van Iderstine introduced a Chorus group that year and they produced a musical comedy called "Patty."

By 1939 the Choruses were practicing twice a week during school hours. In 1941 the Boys' Chorus joined with the Girls' Glee Club to give a combined program for a Christmas assembly. Mr. Robert Rowe continued work with both groups, but, in 1942, Mrs. Leete Elliot conducted only a Girls' Glee Club. For several years the boys' group was discontinued;

From the time Mr. George Low, our present director, joined the faculty in 1944 the combined groups have appeared upon many, many occasions.

The Chorus in the 1950 school year had twelve public performances, two trips, five different concerts, and adjudications at the All-State Music Festival held in Burlington and at the New England Music Festival in Hamden, Connecticut.

Among those to attend the New England Music Festival in Auburn, Maine, were Judith Patten, Carolyn Ackley, Harold Swanson, and James Phillips.

Chorus members who attended All-State Chorus were: Sue Terrill, Carlene Johnson, Judith Patten, Roberta Cook, Carolyn Ackley, Ruth Davidson, Gene Tappan, Richard Kaeller, Joel Sherburne, James Phillips, and Robert Boutwell.

Front row: June Cheney, Carole Franzoni, Geraldine Cheney, Beverley Chase.
 Row two: Betty Cameron, Carolyn Ackley, Arlene Mayer, Theodora Phillips, Ruth Armstrong, Carlene Johnson.
 Row three: Ellanora Burke, Sally Gerdon, Jane Perkins, Charleen Burke, Linda McKerley, Shirley Tryon, Sue Terrill.

Girl's Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association held regular meetings throughout the year mainly for the purpose of directing the various sports. Early in the year the following members were elected:

JANE PERKINS	President
GLORIA PRATICO	Vice President
JANET DUVAL	Secretary
CAROLE FRANZONI	Treasurer

Ruth Armstrong was elected chairman of hockey. June Cheney and Charleen Burke were chosen as chairmen of basketball and volley ball, respectively.

Money from candy sales and from the Curtis Magazine Drive helped to boost the club's treasury. In addition to numerous activities carried on under the supervision of Miss Mary Fredericks, faculty adviser, the club effected a change in the constitution making more girls eligible for membership.

Cheerleaders

Rutland High School has had cheerleading worth boasting about for thirty years or more. From the first, at the time the fans were led in cheering by a boy, until the present it has always been strictly a student activity. The cheerleaders have performed without any coaching outside of the group itself until this year when Miss Mary Fredericks, our new physical education teacher, became the director.

The 1950-1951 cheerleaders were: Sue Terrill and Carlene Johnson, captains; Janet Brush, Earlene Germon and Carole Franzoni, juniors; and Mary Webber and Nancy Russell, sophomores.

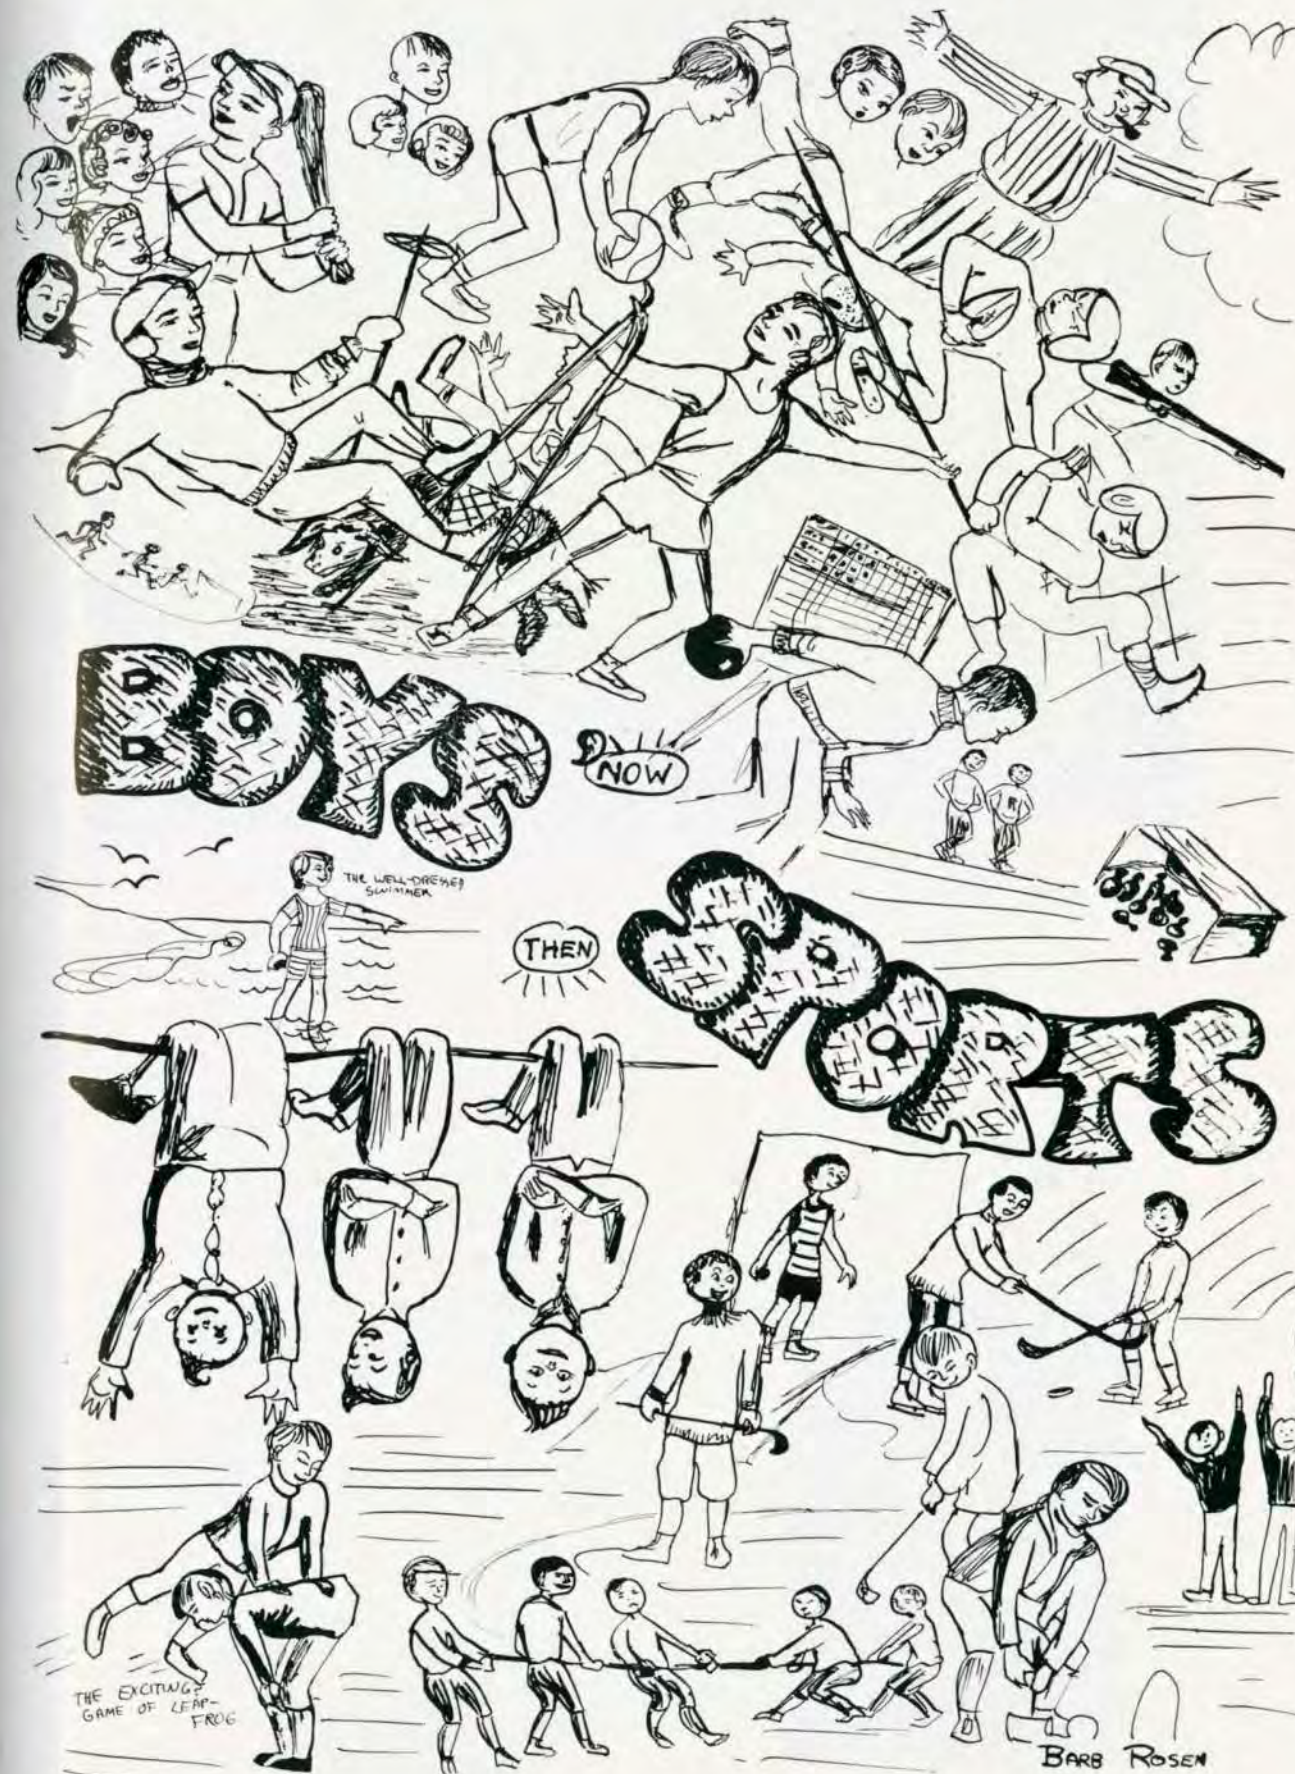

Some of the girls have made the headlines in the cheerleading news. Carlene Johnson made the All-State Cheering Squad in 1948. Sue Terrill was chosen as the tournament queen in that year. Janet Brush made the tournament queen in 1950, and Carole Franzoni was chosen our football queen of 1950.

At the two regular practice sessions a week the girls learned and practiced new cheers that spurred our teams to many victories.

Football

The 1950 edition of gridmen turned out by Head Coach, Lloyd Flaitz and Assistant Coach, Leo Keefe staged a stirring comeback climaxed by a sensational victory over Mount St. Joseph Academy on Armistice Day. Rutland dropped its first two tilts, but then mustered up its spirit and courage and dropped only one game in the remainder of the season for a fine 5-3 slate.

Captain Miles had a great deal to do in spurring the team onward throughout the season. Another factor which had bearing on the successful slate was the way the boys pulled through without any serious injuries.

COACH FLAITZ

Bennington was the first of two teams to bring woe to the Redmen at the beginning of the season by a 20-13 effort. "Bud" McConnell and Malc Guild cracked over for all of the Raiders' points. Due to the Raiders' lack of a well-rounded offense, the Ben-Hi boys led at half-time, 13-0.

Captain-ROBERT MILES

The Redmen hadn't yet found the solution to their problem when they stepped off the field the following Saturday, for they were upset by a scrappy Poultney eleven, 7-6. The lone Raider tally came on a pass from "Cozy Joe" Dolan to Dick Grace, a combine which was destined to click for many TD's in the remaining six games.

Coach Flaitz then pulled his boys out of the doldrums, and they ventured north to battle Burlington. This was the turning point of the season for Rutland as they put on a terrific show in spilling the Sea Horses, 2-0. Dolan came into his own as a brilliant passer and signal-caller as he hit Dick Grace with two pay-dirt pitches and then flipped another to Bob Miles for the third TD. Miles also scored two extra points. "Yogi" Garcia was outstanding on defense, and the line was superb as they used a two-platoon system.

The comeback march continued as the Raiders blasted the Bellows Falls Terriers, 33-0. Miles scored three touchdowns, two via Dolan's accurate arm and Malc Guild grabbed two glory gallops. The extra points were scored by Guild, McConnell, and Stetson.

The victory van was then halted momentarily by the later-crowned State Champion, Brattleboro Colonels, 25-6. The Bratts were very powerful as they depended on this win to give them a large lead in the race for top laurels. As usual, Dolan passed to Grace for the Raiders' six digits. This loss stopped Rutland's bid for the State Championship, but they set their eyes on an equally important goal—beating M.S.J.

Springfield was the next to drop by the way as the Redmen edged the Cosmos, 14-13. This was a thriller all the way, but the Red and White staved off the enemy's late rally to take the victory. "Bud" McConnell regained his running form by collecting seven points, while Dolan and Grace again clicked for six. Guild scored the remaining extra tally.

The next to last stop was at Claremont, N. H., where the Redmen romped as best they could in a sea of mud, 20-0. Their winning attack was confined to the ground because of the weather, but McConnell bulled over for seven points, Guild for six and Grace went 40 yards on a brilliant end-around play as Dolan grabbed the other extra point.

Then came the long-awaited Armistice Day and with it a glorious climax to an excellent season. The Raiders, who played inspired ball every minute, bested the powerful M.S.J. Green Wave by a 6-0 margin. Everyone played heads-up ball at all times as the Raider line stopped the surging Ernie Zambon and Company time after time. Lee Wilson, Dave Mack, Joe Roberts, and George Cady starred defensively. Offensively, it was "Bud" McConnell turning in a man-size job which awarded him the coveted Msgr. Brown Trophy. The all-important touchdown came in the third quarter in a most fitting manner—a 21 yard pass from Dolan to Grace.

All-State-DICK GRACE

Dick Grace received an All-State end berth for his sensational play over the season while Lee Wilson copped a second string guard nomination. Joe Roberts, Howard Cameron, George Cady, Bob Miles, "Joe" Dolan, Olaf Garcia, and "Bud" McConnell all received honorable mentions to the All-State roster.

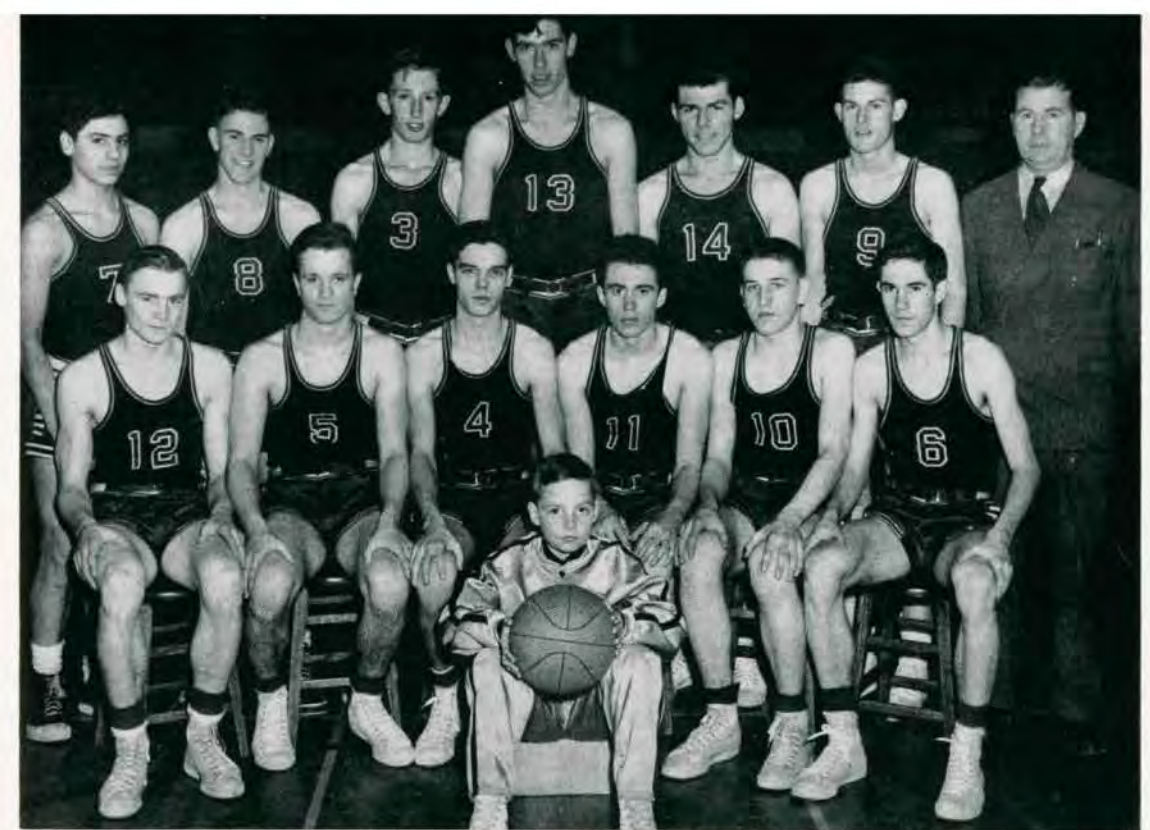

Cameron, Grace, Mack, Wilson, George Greene, who played an excellent end all year, Dolan, Miles, McConnell, Bill Frappier, and Harold Swanson all experienced their final season and they were aided a great deal by the playing of Roberts, Garcia, Jim Grady, Dick Lane, Nelson Baldwin, Fred Taylor, Jim Jeffords, Guild, Charley Blanchard, Cady, Bill Farwell and George Hansen. The latter group will return for duty next year.

Dick Grace led the scoring parade with 42 points followed by Guild with 27, Miles with 26, McConnell, 21; while Dolan and Stetson grabbed one apiece—a total of 118 points compared to the opponents' 65. The team racked up 2244 yards gained all around, which is an enviable total, and the enemy gathered only 1485 yards.

Dolan was the passing man with 41 out of 61 passes completed—nine of these going for TD's. McConnell was the ground gainer with 384 yards to his credit followed by Miles (284), Guild (276), and Garcia (258).

To cap things, Grace was the head man in the pass-receiving department as he grabbed 20 out of 32 tosses and his end partner, Greene, snagged 7 for 13 heaves.

Varsity Basketball

Coach Leo F. Keefe's 1950-51 crew of courtmen kept the standards of Raider basketball prestige at its usual high level by compiling an excellent 16-7 slate which carried them through the season which ended in the finals of the Southern Vermont Tournament.

More outstanding than their won and lost record was their defensive work. The Keefemen held their opponents to a scant 35.5 points per game while averaging 42 markers per tilt themselves. These outstanding percentages merited them second place in the Southern Vermont League and they were tops in the loop's defense department.

After compiling a 4-2 record in pre-SVL games the Redmen opened their SVL play. They dropped the lid-lifter to Brattleboro, 38-36, but then proceeded to cop four in a row after which a mid-season slump hit them and they dropped three in succession, one of which was to Mount St. Joseph Academy by a 41-30 count. However, Coach Keefe yanked his charges out of the doldrums very nicely, and they proceeded to knock off eight teams in order before bowing to Springfield in the finals of the Southern Vt. Tournament by a 35-24 margin. Included in this win skein was a revenging win over M.S.J. by a 35-28 score.

The Raider scoring machine, which rolled off 929 points, operated on a very smooth fast break as well as their customary possession type of game. Although the Raiders had their downfalls, Coach Keefe felt that the club turned in a season of which they can well be proud.

In the individual scoring department, Dick Grace led all tossers by compiling a grand total of 263 tallies. Dick, in addition to this, won a well-deserved All-Tourney berth because of a great performance against Bennington in the annual classic by scoring 18 points in Rutland's 41-34 victory. The lanky lad really left his mark at Rutland High School during his excellent court career.

Next in line was Captain-to-be, Russ Shappy, who took over the pivot spot and masterfully dunked in 150 points and should be a tremendous help in next year's scrambles on the boards.

J. V. Basketball

Playing a very promising brand of basketball all season Rutland's Junior Varsity Little Raiders ended their 1950-51 campaign with a fine 14-7 record.

Coach Al Merritt, a former athlete of R. H. S. himself, took over the reins of the club after Coach Lloyd "Dido" Flaitz took a leave of absence for further study in California. A well-liked mentor, Merritt guided his boys very efficiently through the remainder of the year in which they racked up 770 points in their 21 game card.

Sophomore Olaf "Yogi" Garcia piled up a terrific total of 235 markers to lead all of the Merrittmen in the individual scoring department. The hard-driving sophomore also proved to be a very capable ball-handler as he was frequently seen dribbling his opponents haywire.

Freshman Stuart St. Peter, who is a sure bet for varsity duty before he leaves the halls of R. H. S., finished second in the tally column with 132 points. Junior Jim Jeffords, whose aggressiveness won him a berth on the Rutland Varsity squad during the Southern Vermont tourney along with Garcia and "Sandy" Guynup, meshed the hemp for 112 markers and he was followed closely by the rugged Guynup lad who racked up 94 hoops.

Other Junior Redmen, who hit with consistency during the campaign were Nelson "Dub" Baldwin with 61 points, Jim Grady with 52 markers, Don King with 31 points and Steve Lyne with 22 hoops.

There were also many freshmen on the squad during the latter part of the season, who were up from their own squad and they performed very capably which means good things to come for the J. V.'s next year.

Front row: Mr. George Sloan, Coach; Robert Fitzsimmons, Dan Allen, Gary Devenow, Phillip Knapp, Edward Bartlett
 Row two: Edward Boynton, Charles Blanchard, Ronald Horton, Tony White.
 Row three: Michael Fiske, Leonard Burke, Bert Hyland, Barton Bellamy, Paris Kennedy.

Freshman Basketball

Under the splendid leadership of Coach George Sloan, the Class of '54 compiled a spotless record during the winter months as they racked up nine wins and no losses. In this dominating win skein the Raider Frosh came home with the Freshman Championship cup in the Freshman-Sophomore Tournament.

During the tourney play, the Sloanmen downed Pittsford, 27-14 in the quarter-finals, trimmed West Rutland, 50-25 in the semi-finals and then beat Mount St. Joseph Academy, 21-19 in a fracas that went into a sudden-death period. The "Frank Merriwell" of the thrilling game was Phil Knapp, who plugged home the winning tally for the well-earned win.

Also outstanding in the tourney showing of the squad was Stuart St. Peter, who performed on the Junior Varsity squad all year. Dan Allen, Ronnie Horton, Ed Bartlett, Tony White, Bart Bellamy, Mickey Fiske, Bert Hyland, Gary Devenow, Bob Fitzsimmons, Danny Kennedy, Charley Blanchard and Lenny Burke were all instrumental in leading the squad to the excellent undefeated card.

Coach Sloan deserves a great deal of credit for the work that he put into guiding the first-year men in the fundamentals of the game. The frosh were undoubtedly one of the smoothest and most basketball-conscious squads ever turned out at R. H. S.

Homeroom Basketball

The deserving sophomore lads of Room 114 were crowned champions of R. H. S. in the annual home room hoop derby and the consolation title was captured by the seniors of Home Room 101.

The championship tilt of the tourney pitted 114 against the juniors from 211, and the soph's squad, made up of Norm Davis, Jack Handley, Jim Grady, Louie Day, "Yogi" Garcia, and Bob Davies emerged victorious, 20-15.

In the consolation round two senior rooms matched talent; 101 knocked off 103 for the title by a 20-11 count. For the 101-ers it was Norm Baker, Les Baird, Bob Crawford, "Bud" Bruce, and Charley Dunklee all the way.

In the separate class championship bracket 102 downed 103 for the senior crown; 211 whipped 205, 30-16 for the junior title; 114 was the sophomore winner by slapping 117, 25-10; and 217 was the freshman champ on the strength of a 25-20 decision over 216.

Many boys were picked from this tourney to participate on the varsity and junior varsity squads which is the primary reason for the competition. However, it also gives every lad, no matter what his basketball ability is, a chance to play competitive ball.

Ski Team

Although Rutland High School's Ski Team failed to take a meet during this past winter, Coach Richard Hebert's hill-sliders gained a wealth of experience to aid them in the coming year's snow wars.

Captain Don LaBrake was the principal standout of the campaign as he climaxed four years of top-notch skiing under the colors, red and white. Roger Frisch, the other senior on the roster was also of fine calibre when it came to the popular winter sport, and he earned his letter along with LaBrake.

Co-Captains-elect for next year are Tom Dolan and Jack Stetson. Both boys are most deserving of the honor and give promise of being a nucleus of a strong squad in 1951-1952. Other stalwarts who will be returning for action with experience under their belts will be Ted Willis, Dick Adams, Dave Petraglia, John Hartigan, and Bob Mulholland, Jr.

In the Middlebury District Meet Rutland placed fifth—two-tenths of a point from a qualifying berth in the State Meet. The last engagement of the season was a loss to Burr and Burton. No more meets were held because of the poor snow conditions.

Track

After fielding a comparatively inexperienced thinclad crew in 1950, Coach Howard Douglas fashioned his 1951 squad from a strong nucleus of 16 returning lettermen.

This year, the returnees were headed by fleet-footed Bill Frappier who continued to make his presence felt in the high and low hurdle races through out the state. "Frap," a senior, has been a letterman since his freshman year and he served as Co-Captain with Johnson in his junior year.

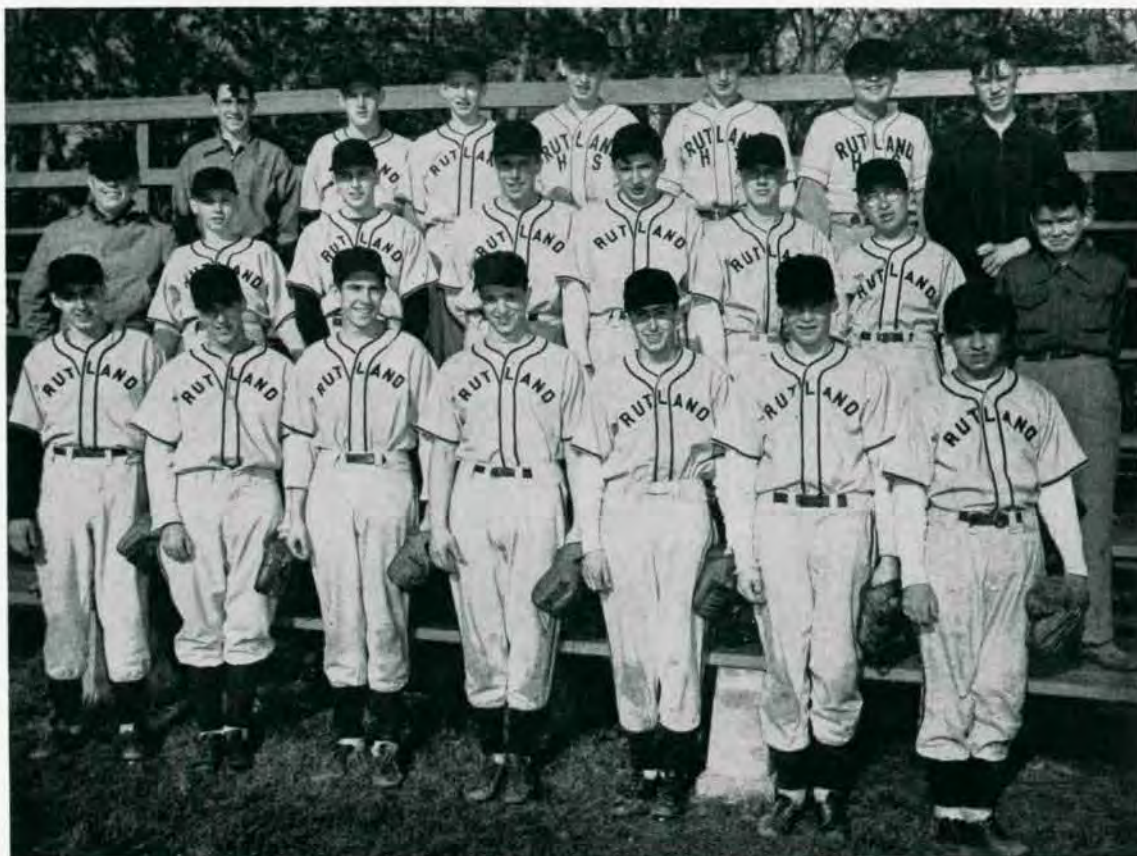

Last-year men in the jumping events were Bill Goldman, Don LaBrake, and Don Guimond, while Frappier and Joe Donnelly excelled in the pole vault. Goldman, along with Dick "The Stick" Grace, also served in the broad jump pit.

Ronald Lucas and Bob Crawford were seniors who participated in the shotput and discus events, along with juniors, George Cady, Joe Roberts, and Bill Farwell. Seniors, Steve Levenson and Crawford stood out in the javelin tossing department along with juniors, Russ Shappy and Bill Farwell.

The juniors of this past season were George Hansen, Tom Dolan, Ted Willis, Marty Welch, Nelson Baldwin, Jim Jeffords, and Don Wilder; sophomores were Pete Perkins, Don Sharon, and Don Pratt. The freshmen boasted of lads like Tony White, Ed Bartlett, and Ken White.

Baseball

The 1951 production of diamondites to come out of Rutland High School was under the very able mentor, Coach Al Merritt. A former R. H. S. and Norwich man, Merritt filled in at the helm during the absence of Coach Lloyd Flaitz who is in California studying for a higher degree.

In quest of their second state championship, the Merrittmen started out with a nucleus of six lettermen. Returning for a last campaign on the mound were senior twirlers, "Bud" McConnell and Johnny Young. This pair proved to be the Raider one-two punch from the hill with hurlers Bernie Rome and Stuart St. Peter. Handling the slants of these lads most efficiently was Olaf "Yogi" Garcia, a sophomore whiz on the catching job.

Leading the infield as well as the squad from the field was Captain George Greene, who proved to be the take-charge guy Coach Merritt needed in his infield. George was a steady sticker as well as a smooth and sure second baseman.

At the initial sack McConnell and Rome alternated throughout the season when they were not pitching, while Herb Moore, a senior, and Malc Guild, a junior, worked at shortstop. The latter was outstanding at the plate as his batting eye continued to function while Moore flashed a fine brand of fielding.

Youthful Charlie Blanchard looked promising as he performed at third base and behind the mask. Don King, a sophomore, proved his worth as an infielder.

In the outfield department the leading gardeners were Bob Miles and Young. Both of these Raiders were outstanding in every tilt and both possessed extremely strong and accurate throwing arms. Miles was one of the leading men at the plate as he wound up his high school athletic career in sparkling style.

The manager for the year was David Quinn who did a fine job in his department. Other lads whose efforts and abilities were appreciated, and who will be back for duty next year were Ed Turner, Bob Fitzsimmons, Norm Davis, Tom Heath, Lenny Burke, Rudy Swanson, Jack Stetson, Pete Chilos, and Gordie Stevens.
